

2ND ANNUAL CORPORATE COMPLIANCE INSTITUTE

Friday, April 7, 2017 | 9:00 a.m. - 3:30 p.m.

Rutgers Law School | 217 North Fifth Street | Camden, NJ 08102

In the wake of several high-profile corporate scandals and government prosecutions, corporate compliance continues to grow in importance to business organizations. Compliance policies and procedures must be appropriately drafted, implemented, and enforced. But as the importance of corporate compliance grows, there is no consensus on what constitutes an effective compliance program.

This year's Institute will bring together practitioners, current and former government officials, and business and legal scholars, who have differing perspectives on corporate compliance. The Institute will include sessions on Department of Justice perspectives on compliance programs, compliance training and education, and building a culture of compliance in a competitive business environment. Attendees will also have the chance to discuss the practical realities of modern compliance with fellow compliance officers, attorneys, and other professionals.
