

EFFECTIVE DEPOSITIONS: TECHNIQUES AND STRATEGIES TO MAXIMIZE YOUR CASE

Wednesday, October 17, 2018 | 5:30 p.m. to 8:10 p.m.

Rutgers Law School

Center for Law and Justice | 123 Washington Street | Newark, NJ 07102

Effective depositions are critical to success in civil litigation. This program will offer practical techniques and strategies on taking and defending depositions in both the Federal and State Courts of New Jersey. Our faculty expert will provide guidance on what you need to know about deposition practice from the preliminary planning stages to the use of deposition testimony at trial. Topics include:

- deposition planning and strategy
- responding to subpoenas
- protective orders
- witness preparation and preserving privileges
- examination techniques
- handling exhibits
- witness conferences during examination
- objections and instructions not to answer
- managing conflict
- transcript review/errata sheets
- use of deposition testimony at hearings and trials

Faculty:

Kevin R. Gardner, Esq., Partner, Connell Foley LLP

Mr. Gardner has been representing clients in the federal and state courts for more than thirty years in complex commercial, construction and environmental litigation, class actions, product liability claims, employment restrictive covenant disputes, and trade secret litigation. He is also an adjunct professor at Rutgers Law School teaching Civil Litigation Strategy.
