SUSTAINABLE SUPPLY CHAINS: STRENGTHENING THE LINKS

Thursday, April 11, 2019

4:00 p.m. to 5:30 p.m.

followed by a reception

Nathan H. Baker Trial Courtroom | Room 125
Rutgers Law School | Center for Law and Justice | 123 Washington Street | Newark, NJ 07102

This program will discuss the increased focus on the sustainability of global supply chains and address the questions: What is driving multinational corporations to enhance the social, human rights, and environmental performance of their supply chains? How are companies working to meet the (sometime conflicting) expectations of their various stakeholders, including investors, shareholders, employees, consumers, NGOs and government? And what norms are they developing to make global supply chains more sustainable?
